Old Home Town Gets in News With a Flood

The editor's old home town, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., which he left as a youth, is making one of its infrequent appearances in the national news.

The Susquehanna River is at a record flood stage, spreading havoc in all the riverbank towns, of which the largest are Wilkes-Barre and the state capital, Harrisburg.

The Susquehanna drains a good-size watershed in north-eastern Pennsylvania and empties into Chesapeake Bay. The river frequently hits flood stage, but usually this occurs in April when the Spring thaw dumps melted ice and snow into the Wyoming Valley section.

But the current flood is due to an unseasonal rainfall, triggered by the tropical hurricane Agnes, with many dead, many more missing, and millions of dollars' damage. The only floods I saw as a boy were when the April thaw turned ice floes loose and choked the gorge, where the river narrows between the mountains, just south of Wilkes-Barre.

Mention of the old home town reminds me that people squabble over the pronunciation of place names; even the home folks disagree.

Wilkes-Barre has three radio stations. I once heard the announcers on two of them pronounce the city's name as "Wilkes-Berry," which is correct, while the third station had a die-hard who declared it was "Wilkes-Barrow."

Pronunciation goes back to a pair of English Liberal leaders for whom the city was named: Col. Wilkes and Capt. Barre.

14 dead, troops claim

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops claimed they shot 14 guerrillas in gun battles Sunday as the cease-fire promised by the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army neared. Six other persons were killed during the weekend, raising Northern Ireland's death toll to at least 383 in three years of communal violence.

Three of the dead were British soldiers, killed when their truck hit a mine near Londonderry. Troops killed one gunman. The other two dead were a Protestant and a Roman Catholic, and there was speculation they were killed by assassination squads from the rival religious factions.

The worst outbreak came Sunday when at least 20 gunmen attacked the troops in Belfast. More than 700 rounds were fired.

"They have never been more reckless," one British officer reported. "It was almost suicidal the way they came at us."

But the guerrillas as usual carried away their casualties, and it was not known how many were killed and how many wounded.

Meanwhile, a 200-pound bomb demolished a hotel in Lisburn, a 120-pound charge wrecked a bar in Strabane, bomb blasts destroyed two border customs posts and gunmen fired on a police station at Bealek for an hour. No casualties were reported in any of these attacks.

British officials feared the guerrillas planned to press the assault right up to midnight tonight, when the cease-fire was scheduled to begin.

A 'digging' vacation

About 50 members of the Arkansas Archeological Society are conducting a two week "dig" in Caddo Indian mounds, located just north of Emmet. Above, one AAS member collects samples from an isolated corner of the field in which the dig is taking place, while at left, other members of the group "fall in line" to return to the campsite. The dig will continue through July 5.

Air strikes knock out steel plant

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. pilots knocked out North Vietnam's only steel plant, put a power plant out of operation and dropped two bridges in weekend raids, the U.S. Command reported today.

Radio Hanoi claimed that six U.S. F4 Phantoms were shot down, but the U.S. Command said it had no plane losses to report. However, it is the command's policy to withhold such information as long as rescue operations are in progress.

U.S. pilots flew more than 270 strikes on Saturday and a like number on Sunday.

One flight of four Phantoms hit the Viet Tri thermal power plant 25 miles northwest of Hanoi on Sunday with 2,000-pound, laser-guided bombs. They "effectively destroyed the plant's capability to produce electrical power for the nearby industrial complex," a communique said.

Reconnaissance photos confirmed the destruction of the boiler facility, the electrical switching building, and the fuel and coal conveyor, the communique said.

It was learned that the Viet Tri plant was attacked on June

1 with laser bombs, but that raid was not announced because it failed to put the plant out of commission.

The 7th Air Force announced that four of its Phantoms dropped laser-guided, 2,000-pound bombs into the open hearth furnaces of the Thai Nguyen steel plant 30 miles north of Hanoi on Saturday. Sixteen other Phantoms bombed warehouse areas.

The Air Force said part of the plant was not hit but the destruction of the furnaces destroyed North Vietnam's entire capacity for producing structural steel for railroads, bridges and buildings.

Today more than 70 U.S. B52s bombed North Vietnamese positions menacing South Vietnam's northern front for the fourth successive day. Little other action was reported along the My Chanh defense line 20 to 25 miles above Hue.

The U.S. Command disclosed that it is absorbing the tactical operations centers of both the 7th Air Force and Strategic Air Command, but it denied that this was because of the unauthorized Air Force strikes against North Vietnam.

Dems take hard line

Withdrawal from VN is main plank

WASHINGTON (AP) — First-draft planks of the Democratic 1972 platform called today for "an immediate and complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Indochina" and took a middle-ground stand on the hot domestic issue of racial school busing.

Both planks, and perhaps as many as a dozen others, headed into floor fights as the full 150-member drafting committee convened for a two-day session open to press and public.

Challenges were expected from both right and left on the eight-plank platform drafted by a 15-member drafting subcommittee which itself could not agree on a defense spending plank.

It sent two versions to the floor, one demanding a strong military stance to deter aggressors and keep the confidence of allies, the other suggesting that cutbacks should be undertaken.

The Vietnam plank denounced President Nixon's failure to make good on his 4-year-old promise of peace and declared that his Vietnamization program has been proved a delusion.

"The majority of the Democratic senators have called for full U.S. withdrawal by October 1, 1972. We support that position," the draft plank said.

"If the war is not ended before the next Democratic administration takes office, we pledge, as the first order of business, an immediate and complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Indochina."

"All U.S. military action in Southeast Asia will cease. After the end of U.S. direct combat participation, military aid to the Saigon government and elsewhere in Indochina will be terminated."

"The U.S. will no longer seek to determine the political future of the nations of Indochina."

The school-busing plank was quickly and sharply challenged by delegates supporting Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, who promised to offer a dissenting plank and carry the fight if necessary to the national convention opening July 10 in Miami Beach, Fla.

This was the first-draft statement.

"We support the goal of desegregation as a means to achieve equal access to quality education for all our children. Quality education is the issue—busing is not."

'New forces' join struggle to keep VN system open

HONG KONG (AP) — North Vietnam said today that "new forces" have joined the struggle to maintain its transportation system against the heavy U.S. bombing.

The statement, which came at the end of a long description of that struggle, did not identify the new forces. But they could be Chinese work units who have moved across the border into North Vietnam as they did during the 1965-68 bombing.

The statement by Radio Hanoi emphasized that there must be utmost cooperation with "these new forces which have just recently joined our communication and transportation forces."

"We must rapidly regularize and arrange the work situation to utilize to the fullest these new forces which recently joined us."

Radio Hanoi gave a vivid description of desperate efforts to keep transport moving despite the destructive bombing.

"Struggling against the enemy over each bridge and each road," Radio Hanoi reported, "our people ignore all hardships in carrying out repairs."

Radio Hanoi claimed the maintenance efforts were succeeding.

North Vietnam's claims of success in transportation maintenance contradict U.S. military claims that the bombing has greatly reduced movement of supplies to North Vietnamese units fighting in South Vietnam.

All Around Town

Ellen Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McDowell Turner, is attending in Medonak, Maine Audubon Camp, Todd Wildlife Sanctuary, for two weeks.

Her application was reviewed by an Arkansas Audubon Society committee and announcement of her selection as recipient of the Ruth Thomas Scholarship was made at the state meeting last month.

Mrs. Turner received the BA degree with a major in biology from Hendrix College earlier this month.

Although her work is a part of the program, the site was a discovery with a lot of plants and animals that the camp staff had never seen.

Visitors were not permitted to enter the grounds of the camp and plant life was asked to be left alone. The camp staff was very helpful in the camp.

determine if there is enough interest to warrant such a project.

The regular meeting of Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 will be held Tuesday, June 27 at 7:30 p.m. instead of the first Tuesday in July, which will be the 10th of July. An Entered Apprentice degree will be conferred at the June 27 meeting.

Attending the Democrat State convention in Little Rock Saturday, delegates from Hempstead County were: Mr. and Mrs. Crit Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Flowers, Jr., Dr. E.C. Crow, Mrs. Juanita Brown, Will V. Rutherford, Norman G. Gillett, Larry S. Patterson, George "Boots" Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Donal Pinner, Mrs. Powell was elected a delegate to the national convention in Miami.

Fire is exchanged in Golan Heights

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Arab gunners exchanged fire across the occupied Golan Heights again today after a week of attacks, counterattacks and steadily rising tension.

The Israeli command said the Arabs fired several shells at Israeli Army positions, and the fire was returned. No casualties were reported.

In Beirut, the newspaper An Nahar reported that the Palestinian commandos in Lebanon had agreed in principle to halt their activities on the border with Israel "for the time being."

Official and public pressure against the guerrillas was reported rising in Lebanon, the only Arab country where they are not tightly controlled. There was no comment from Lebanese government or guerrilla sources on the reported agreement, but An Nahar said the guerrilla chief Yasir Arafat had gone to Damascus to discuss it with Syria's president, Hafez Assad.

Lebanese premier Saeb Salam said Saturday his government would not crack down on the Palestinians. But he appealed to them to avoid using Israel "pretexts for more aggression."

Israeli Deputy Premier Yehal Alon warned Lebanon in a speech Sunday night to control the guerrillas.

A Syrian statement threatened "severe consequences" to Israel for its capture last week of a Syrian brigadier general and four Syrian colonels during the Israeli raid into Lebanon last Wednesday. Political sources in Tel Aviv said the capture has stimulated interest in diplomatic bargaining under way in Jerusalem for a full exchange of war prisoners.

In his speech to a collective farm meeting, Alon said Israel is prepared in principle to exchange its 108 Arab prisoners for 13 Israelis in Egyptian and Syrian jails.

Common Market members meet to discuss the monetary crisis

By ANTHONY COLLINGS
Associated Press Writer

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Finance and foreign ministers of the six Common Market nations are meeting in Luxembourg today to seek ways of resolving the new international monetary crisis touched off by Britain's floating of the pound. British Chancellor of the Exchequer Anthony Barber was to join them late today.

Their most immediate problem was the future of the agreement they made last spring with Britain and three other prospective Common Market members to keep the exchange rates on their currencies within a range of 2½ per cent.

The agreement was intended to be the first step toward a unified monetary policy for the enlarged Common Market scheduled to come into being next Jan. 1. Britain, in setting the pound free last Friday to find its own level according to supply and demand, pulled out of the agreement, at least temporarily.

Among the possibilities being weighed today were:

—Retention of the 2½-per cent limit on fluctuations in the Six's currencies against each other but floating all of them against the dollar.

—Devaluation of the weakest European currencies, including the Italian lira and the Danish kroner as well as the pound.

—Controls on the flow of capital in and out of the European countries, mostly by the huge international corporation whose unchecked currency transfers helped to cause the current crisis.

—Some compromise combination.

The ministers were hoping to get from Barber some indication of how long his government expects the pound to float and at what level it expects it to settle.

Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg are in favor of a joint float against the dollar. France wants to retain the schedule of fixed rates of exchange and the 2½-per cent fluctuation band. France also wants to impose restrictions on movement of capital, but West German Finance Minister Karl Schiller opposes this as interference with the market. Italy is the sixth member of the Common Market, while the four prospective members are Britain, Ireland, Norway and Denmark.

Court delays decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today put off for another year a judgment on the anti-abortion laws of Texas and Georgia.

Evidently closely divided, the justices announced they would hear argument again next term on the question of whether it is unconstitutional for government to interfere with women's control over their own bodies.

At stake are the laws in these and other states that restrict physicians in performing therapeutic abortions.

The court also has on its docket cases testing abortion laws in Maryland, Illinois, North Carolina, Louisiana, New Jersey, Utah and Mississippi. They also remain undecided since they are intertwined with the Georgia and Texas cases.

Part of the Georgia law was declared invalid two years ago by a district court in Atlanta. The Texas law, meanwhile, was declared invalid by a three-judge panel in Dallas.

Hutto says figure is 'very realistic'

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Terrell Don Hutto, state correction commissioner, has put the term "very realistic" to a budget of more than $4 million approved Saturday by the state Board of Correction for the next fiscal year.

The budget provides $4,012,270 for department operations next year and a total expenditure of $4,441,314.

Delegates

Of the 27 delegates, five were blacks, 10 were women and five were under 30 years of age.

Below is a list of delegates to the Democratic National Convention selected Saturday at the special state Democratic Convention in Little Rock.

First District: John Gammon of West Memphis, a black; Dewey Neely of Osceola; Mrs. Mary House of Batesville; Ralph Myers Jr. of Hickory Ridge and Mrs. Marin Penix of Jonesboro.

Second District: Roger Mears of Little Rock; Mrs. Cal Ledbetter of Little Rock; Mrs. Linda Torrence of Little Rock, a black under 30; Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of Morilton, and Mrs. Phyllis Brandon of Little Rock.

Third District: Bradley Jesson of Fort Smith; Mrs. Diane Kincaid of Fayetteville; Jim Blair of Springdale; Mrs. Mary Jane Garrison of Bentonville, under 30, and state Rep. Steve Smith of Huntsville, under 30.

Fourth District: Henry Wilkins III of Pine Bluff, a black; Mrs. Penny Glass of Dumas, under 30; Mrs. Ruth Tate of Camden; Dewey Stiles of Malvern and state Rep. Thomas Sparks of Fordyce.

Mrs. Juanita Powell of Hope was selected as first alternate from the Fourth District to the Democratic National Convention to be held in Miami next month.

Delegates will meet McGovern

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Aides for Sen. George McGovern said that he will meet with the newly selected Arkansas delegates to the Democratic National Convention Tuesday.

He will also meet with Gov. Dale Bumpers while in Little Rock.

KcGovern will arrive at Adams Field by chartered plane about 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, an aide said.

There will be no airport reception, but there will be a rally at noon on West Capitol Avenue between Louisiana and Center streets.

Mrs. Polly Hackett, a staff member, said McGovern will meet with delegates and the governor at 2:30 p.m. at the Governor's Mansion. He will then hold a press conference at 4:15 p.m.

McGovern is on a quick swing of the south to pick up delegate support.

Court clamps down on surveillance of civilians by Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — On a 5 to 4 vote, the Supreme Court today cut off a major test of the Army's surveillance of civilians.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said it was up to Congress, not the courts, to sit "as virtually continuing monitors of the wisdom and soundness of executive action."

Burger said the federal appeals court here was wrong when it granted a request by complaining civilians for a full-dress judicial hearing on the Army surveillance system.

The Chief Justice said the four individuals and nine groups who brought the surveillance suit had not proved they suffered any harm or even stood to suffer harm. He cited a 1937 Supreme Court ruling that First Amendment cases must be based on a showing of at least the immediate danger "of sustaining a direct injury."

The ruling was produced by a combination of the four Nixon administration appointees, plus Justice Byron R. White. It effectively bars what would amount to a trial of the way the Army gathered information about individuals and associations beginning in the summer of 1965.

Last March, when the case was argued in the high court, Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold conceded the Army had been overzealous in its surveillance of civilians. "From my point of view it was poor judgment," Griswold said of the monitoring by some 1,000 Army agents. However, the government lawyer insisted neither the Constitution nor federal law was violated.

Burger's majority opinion expressed no attitude on the wisdom of Army surveillance of civilians, though he wound up with an acknowledgement that the suit against the Army "reflects a traditional and strong resistance of Americans to any military intrusion into civilians' affairs."

McGovern fails to get black bloc, however. . .

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern has failed to win endorsement from the National Black Political Convention here.

He met the three co-chairmen of the convention last week, and after the meeting a McGovern aide said the men "were ready to support him" in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

But during a Saturday night strategy session, the convention steering committee decided the convention "as a group" shouldn't make an endorsement—leaving the door open for endorsement by individual black political leaders.

One of the co-chairmen, Mayor Richard Hatcher of Gary, Ind., said McGovern is in "close concert" with positions adopted by the convention in Gary last March.

In his meeting last week, the South Dakota senator had been asked to back the black group's positions. The group later issued statements by both McGovern and Sen. Hubert Humphrey on their feelings toward the blacks' positions.

Humphrey and McGovern both agreed with the proposal of self-determination for the District of Columbia and public funding for children's day care center.

Both senators disagreed with the blacks' statement condemning Israel for an expansionist policy.

McGovern also took exception to proposals for a black nation within the United States or statehood for cities with black majorities, antibusing statements, and demands for release of all "political prisoners."

Nixon to clash with opponents on arms bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's bid for increased weapons development under the U.S.-Soviet arms accord heads into House debate with opponents proposing a $1.6-billion cutback.

But although their amendments promised Congress' first debate on U.S. arms policy under the Moscow arms-limitation agreements, Nixon's House opponents did not expect to win any cuts in the arguments today or in voting Tuesday and Wednesday.

The amendments would cut all or most of the President's requests for the new guided-missile submarine, advanced B1 bomber and antimissile systems from the $21.3-billion weapons-authorization bill before the House.

"Do we build up to the limit of the agreements?" asked Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., in a report on some of the proposed cuts, "or do we take the President and Soviet party leader Leonid Brezhnev at their words that they agree the arms race should stop?"

But Nixon and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told Congress last week its rejection of the new weapons would jeopardize U.S. security and destroy Soviet incentive for negotiating a fuller arms curb.

Nixon said Soviet incentive to negotiate a permanent limit on all nuclear weapons would be totally destroyed by U.S. failure to keep up with Soviet arms improvements permitted under the five-year interim agreement signed in Moscow.

Laird told senators he hopes the Trident submarine, B1 bomber and other new systems—after giving the Soviets incentive to renegotiate a permanent offensive-weapons curb—could be among the weapons bargained away or limited.

The $21.3-billion weapons bill already has been cut a net $582.4 million as a result of the Moscow accords, with a $692.4-million cut from the Safeguard antimissile system offset with a $110-million increase for offensive-weapons systems other than the Trident and B1 bomber.

Leggett's amendments would cut Nixon's $977-million request for Trident to $277 million to return it to last year's development schedule; cut Safeguard another $350 million, leaving $186 million research-and-development money for it; and cut all $140 million for a tighter radar defense around U.S. missile fields.

Wallace is improving

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace is showing additional encouraging signs of recovery, his doctors report. He now has some feeling in his thighs.

The Alabama governor has been paralyzed from the waist down since he was shot in an assassination attempt on May 15.

Following an operation last Sunday to remove a bullet from his spine, doctors predicted Wallace would be able to move about with the aid of leg braces and crutches within six months.

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Walter A. Huxman, 85, the fifth Democrat to become governor of Kansas, died Sunday at a Topeka hospital.

Huxman won the governorship in Franklin D. Roosevelt's landslide of 1936 and succeeded Alf Landon in the office. Defeated in his attempt for a second term after serving in 1937 and 1938, Huxman was appointed by Roosevelt to the 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and served 17 years until his retirement.

Funeral services are set for 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Penwell-Gabel Chapel in Topeka. Burial will be in Topeka's Memorial Park Cemetery.

Huxman, the son of a minister, was born on a farm near Pretty Prairie, in Reno County, Kan.

He took his law degree from the University of Kansas in 1914 and was admitted to the Kansas Bar the next year.

While he was a justice of the appeals court in Denver, he had his decisions upholding racial segregation statutes in the Topeka school case. The case was appealed and Kansas was one of four states which won the District of Columbia case in the historic litigation culminated in the Supreme Court's 1954 ruling against racial segregation in public schools.

The Jett B. Graves Class of the First United Methodist Church will have a potluck supper at the church Tuesday, June 27, at 7 p.m. Hostesses: Mrs. K. G. Hamilton, Mrs. Graydon Anthony, Mrs. Hazel Castle, Mrs. Roy Stephenson, and Miss Dell McClanahan.

The Fidelis Sunday School Class of the First United Methodist Church will have a party at the Church Tuesday, June 27, at 7 p.m. Food will be provided by the hostesses and all members are invited to attend.

Melrose Homemakers Club

The Melrose Extension Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. A.W. Powell on Tuesday, June 13. "Arkansas" was sung, and the president, Mrs. T.L. Smith, read the Thought of the Month. The devotion was based on the Beatitudes, and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

The eye-opener was given by Mrs. Monroe Willis. She showed the group how to make crocheted beads. Mrs. Gwen Allen gave the lesson, "How to Care for Your Range." Eight members and one visitor, Mrs. Alma Allen, answered the roll call with "Problems I have with my range." Routine business was carried out by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D.E. Wright.

Mrs. Allen presented an interesting article, "Striving for Self-Actualization," and she also discussed "Who is Educated?" Mrs. Willis then pointed out the importance of knowing those with whom we do business.

A poem, "Just a Housewife," was read by the hostess, and the door prize went to the president. The club repeated the Homemakers Prayer to close the meeting. On July 11 at 2 p.m. the club will meet with Mrs. D.E. Wright.

For refreshments chocolate cake, cookies, potato chips and pink punch were served.

Burke-Bussey wedding held

The First United Methodist Church was the scene for the Saturday evening, June 24 wedding of Miss Penny Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Burke, and William Wayne Bussey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bussey of Wilson.

The nuptial music was presented by Mrs. B.C. Hyatt, organist, and Miss Cathy Whitaker, soloist. Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Norris Steele. Vows were exchanged before a candlelit altar centered with a massive candle tree that was flanked by spiral candelabra holding white tapers and entwined with greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza featuring a high neckline and long puff sleeves. The crescent waistline, bodice and chapel train were trimmed in beribboned Venice lace. Her illusion veil was held by a bandeau of Venice lace petals and organza bows. She carried a dainty cascade of stephanotis, phalaenopsis, orchids, and baby's breath caught up with ribbon streamers ending in love knots.

Mrs. Jim Pilkinton of Fayetteville was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Steve Holloway of Little Rock, sister of the bride, Miss Cosy Burke, sister of the bride, Miss Kay Stewart of Gillett, and the flower girl was little Missie Burke. They wore identical floor-length gowns of multicolored organza with a double ruffle at the bottom of the full skirt. The gowns featured a low neckline and long sleeves tied at the wrist by small bows. They carried cloud bouquets of baby's breath sprinkled with orange and yellow-toned summer flowers.

Wayne Bussey of Wilson served his son as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Don Bussey of Wilson, brother of the groom; Larry Duffield of Little Rock; Bob Hardin of Fort Smith; Ronnie Burke, brother of the bride; Steve Holloway of Little Rock. Rusty Burke served as ring bearer.

The candles were lighted by David Bussey of Wilson, brother of the groom, and Scott Holloway of Little Rock.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Burke chose a floor-length gown of champagne lace with matching accessories. Mrs. Bussey, mother of the groom, wore a floor-length gown of pastel green crepe and lace. Each had a corsage of Cymbidium orchids.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Douglas Building. Mrs. Chester Hunt greeted the guests and introduced them to the receiving line.

The house party consisted of Mrs. Henry Burke, Mrs. Ronnie Burke, Miss Jeanne Pruden, Miss Jan Burke and Miss Toni Burke, all of Hope, Mrs. Mike McClure of Nashville, Miss Cathy Rector of Little Rock, Miss Barbara Goble and Miss Donna Lawrence, both of Wilson.

The bride's table was covered with a white bridal satin cloth caught up with miniature nosegays of summer flowers in yellow, apricot and orange shades. The tiered wedding cake was accented by clusters of summer flowers of the same colors.

Before the wedding couple left, Missie and Rusty Burke dispensed rice bags to the guests.

For the honeymoon trip the bride wore an orange knit suit with matching accessories and pinned her mother's corsage at her shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Bussey will be at home in Little Rock.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday, June 23 Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bussey were hosts for a rehearsal dinner at the Heritage House for the Burke-Bussey wedding party. Covers were laid for 30 at tables decorated with multi-colored flowers and yellow candles.

The bride-elect, Miss Penny Burke, was attired in a long, floral dress. She and her fiancé, Bill Bussey, chose this time to present gifts to members of the wedding party.

Gray-Hunt engagement

Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Gray of Patmos announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Marcia Ann, to Kenneth Wayne Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Hunt of Patmos. The wedding will be an event of August 12 at the First Assembly of God

Church of Hope. The bride-elect and bridegroom were both graduated from Hope High School and both are employed in Hope.

No invitations will be sent all friends and relatives are invited.

People in the News

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Author Pearl S. Buck, whose "The Good Earth" won both a Pulitzer Prize and a Nobel Prize in literature, celebrates her 80th birthday today.

The only American woman ever to win the Nobel in literature, Miss Buck has turned out a total of 84 books during her writing career.

Born in Hillsboro, W. Va., Miss Buck spent most of her first 17 years in China with her missionary parents. She also served as a Presbyterian missionary herself in China, from 1914 until 1935.

"The Good Earth," the story of a Chinese peasant's rise to power, was an offshoot of her Chinese experience. It won the Pulitzer in 1931 and the Nobel seven years later.

Jim: "How about showing some really unusual plays this week?"

Oswald: "I bet you have one in mind."

Jim: "That I do. It is sometimes called the Coon coup because it was played by Charles Coon of Boston a few years ago. South won the first trick with his ace of hearts; drew trumps with one lead; cashed dummy's ace of diamonds; ruffed dummy's last diamond and played a heart. Charley took his two heart tricks and led the jack of clubs!"

Oswald: "The only play to give the defense a chance and one that could not possibly hurt him."

Jim: "No. It couldn't. Charley had a perfect count of the distribution. He saw that if East held the club queen any club play would beat the contract. If South held the queen and 10 there was no hope for the defense while if South held the queen and East the 10 the jack play would give declarer a chance to go wrong."

Oswald: "I take it South did go wrong."

Jim: "He sure did. It never occurred to him that Charley held the ace. His whole problem was where the 10 could be found and he decided to play Charley for it. He let the club ride to his queen. Charley ducked the club return as a matter of course and East made his 10."

Squash bugs destructive, agent says

Squash bugs are very destructive to all vine crops in the garden, but show a preference for squash and pumpkin. These insects suck juice from plants, causing the leaves to wilt, turn black and die in a very short time.

The adult squash bug is a brownish-black flat-backed bug about 1 1/2 inch long. The dark brown eggs are laid in clusters, usually on the underside of leaves. The young squash bugs are grayish-white in color with nearly black legs.

Calvin J. Caldwell, county extension agent, says that one of the most effective controls is to collect the bugs by hand and to crush the egg masses as fast as they appear. Pieces of boards are often placed out among the plants. The bugs collect under them at night, and if they are examined each morning many can be destroyed.

When squash bugs become extremely numerous, it is necessary to spray with Sevin or DDT.

Squash bugs take the bait of the expert potato, radish and other plants.

Helen Bottel

Helen Help Us!

Mate Quells Belle's Yells

Dear Helen:
My husband and I are from a small Southern town where women are women and men treat them like "belle." We ended up in New York where a female fends for herself. I've been cussed and yelled at while driving to and from work and naturally I learned to yell back but my husband didn't know this.

The other day he was with me and a man driver blocked me in. I honked several times and he just sat there, so I got out and said a few choice words.

My husband was so shocked he turned white. He said he had always prided himself on by being soft and sweet and acting like a lady no matter what, and he KNEW this would happen if he allowed me to work.

He says he won't have me turn hard like northern working women, so I have to quit my job. I love my job!

How can I show him that going to work hasn't changed me-it's just that men don't expect you to be gentle in New York, and if I am, (whether I'm working or just going to the market), I'd probably never get there.—Hardened Softie
Dear H.S.

Seems to me a GENTLE New York driver is what that city needs. Courtesy often gets you there faster

Dear H.S.:

Seems to me a GENTLE New York driver is what that city needs. Courtesy often gets you there faster than yelling—and not just on the highway. Score one for your husband.

BUT: A job does not turn a woman "Hard." tell you'll be his little Southern comfort, if he'll knock off his chauvinistic ideas of "northern working women."

Dear Helen:

Regarding the jealous wife who wouldn't let her husband dance with any of the other women, while she had a good time dancing with their husbands—you suggested the husbands stop asking her to dance and leave them to the "boredom" of their mates. Why must it be "boredom"?

My husband and I dance well together, enjoy being in each other's arms, and will not dance with anyone else. He also stays with me when we got out, and we never go out separately. We even enjoy grocery shopping together.

I suppose you wonder what kind of marriage this can be. Well, it's beautiful. We never fight or argue. We are too busy finding new ways to show each other our mutual love. Here are a few ways: I cut the grass while he is at work so we'll have more time on weekends to do the things we like to do. I also put notes in his lunch each day, telling him I love him or enclose some funny little cartoon. He always washes the dishes while I dry, so that we can talk together. He never turns the TV on unless we are both able to sit down. Our chairs are close so we can hold hands.

We enjoy hobbies and share them. We have a large family with only one left at home. We still sleep close (in the nude) and are as actively loving as in our first years of marriage—no "Old-age slowdown" here!

All this and my wonderful husband will be on Medicare next year. And we are never bored! My suggestion to those wives who go to a dance to mix with other husbands—try our way.—WeLike It!

Dear Helen:

My husband and his former wife still own a business together and see each other every day. They divorced five years ago. (Not over me.) Fought all the time back then. Now they get along perfectly. He says they were meant to be friends, not lovers. Can I believe him? The business thrives, but I worry—Slightly Jealous

Dear S.J.:

Battling mates often become friends—after divorce takes the fury out of being close. But love usually remains dead. They know each other too well. Stop worrying.—H

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones went to Kansas City last Friday for a reunion of the crew of LST 640 of the WW II years.

Friends will be glad to know that Bert Moody has returned home from the VA Hospital in Little Rock, and Carrigan Cornelius returned from a Houston hospital a short time ago. Both are progressing nicely.

Mrs. Evelyn Fisher, Texarkana, and Mrs. Ethel Haig, Little Rock, were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Benson. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Benson and family, Dallas, spent the weekend with the Bensons.

Webb Laseter and Mary Anita spent Sunday in Shreveport with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stubblefield.

Mrs. Hazel Castle and Miss Ora Mae Moody came home Friday from visits in North Little Rock with Mr. and Mrs. Cary Castle and Robin, and in Pine Bluff with their sisters, Miss Amy Moody and Mrs. Walter Moody. In Pine Bluff they were joined by their brother, A.L. Moody of Warren.

Petty finishes first in Lone Star 500

Richard Petty won the 145th race of his career in 100 degrees in Texas, Ralph Latham enjoyed bright sunshine in romping to victory in Indiana and a spring bubbled over a little bit too much in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania.

Those were the highlights of the weekend's auto racing program, one of the lightest of a record-setting season thus far.

Petty, driving a 1972 Dodge, finished a lap ahead of chief adversary Bobby Allison to cop the Lone Star 500-mile race for National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing Grand National stock cars at Texas International Speedway at Bryan.

The tall veteran from Randleman, N.C., grabbed the lead on the 136th circuit of the two-mile Texas layout and fought off challenges by both Allison and Dodge-driving Bobby Isaac to average 144.185 miles per hour for the 250 laps.

Latham, of Cincinnati, drove a Chevrolet to a quarter-lap victory in a 100-lap dirt track event for U.S. Auto Club stockers at Terre Haute. Bay Darnell of Deerfield, Ill., was second in a Dodge and Chuck McWilliams of Walton, Ky., was fourth in a Plymouth.

At Pocono, Pa., where qualifying was to have been held Saturday and Sunday to set a 33-car field for the $400,000 Schaefer 500, a spring under the third turn at Pocono International Raceway bubbled up persistently to shut the track down for the sixth straight day Sunday.

With six of the seven scheduled practice days having been washed out by rains that flooded much of Pennsylvania, time trials were set back to Thursday and Friday of this week.

The race, the second jewel in USAC's "Triple crown" of 500-mile events that include Indianapolis and Ontario, Calif., is scheduled for July 2. The winner will be paid about $100,000—third largest first place check in auto racing.

Among the entries are Bobby Unser—he clocked 185.299 m.p.h. in practice last Tuesday—and his brother, Al Unser; Roger McCluskey, Gordon Johncock, 1971 inaugural Schaefer winner Mark Donohue, Pete

Martin and Lewis and Rowan and Martin are among the more prominent comedy teams of recent vintage and Martin and Weaver aren't bad, either.

The rival baseball managers—Detroit's Martin and Baltimore's Weaver—were in top form Sunday after the Orioles nipped the Tigers 2-1, capturing two of the three weekend games and moving back into a tie with Detroit atop the American League East.

"Oh, yeah, we're going to win," needed Martin. "I'm more sure than ever after seeing the Orioles."

"I guess if we had won all three games he would have been surer," retorted Weaver.

"Tell Weaver I'll get good seats for him in the playoffs and the World Series," Martin shot back. "If he's not coming, tell him to get a TV set."

"I got him nice seats the last three years," Weaver replied.

GRESHAM, Ore. (AP) — Premier pole vaulter Bob Seagren looked a little puzzled, thought a moment and then recalled what happened at the inaugural Rose Festival track and field meet.

"Oh yeah," he said, "I was very tired in that one. I had just flown in from the East Coast."

Seagren, representing the Southern California Striders, moments earlier was upset at not clearing the bar beyond 17 feet 6½ inches.

He probably didn't feel so badly when he remembered his performance at the festival inaugural meet two years ago. His best vault that day, 13-6.

Seagren, who won Saturday's event, has vaulted 13-4½ this year, a pending world record. He now heads for Eugene and the Olympic Trials beginning Thursday. Tim Lincecum, at least an 18-6 at the trials, said

Texarkana golfers take top honors in tourney

Two Texarkana golfers, David Waddle and Bobby Wood, shot a red-hot six-under on Saturday, then eased into the clubhouse with a two-over on Sunday to take the top honors in the championship flight at the sixth annual Hope Country Club Invitational Four-ball Tournament.

In second place, only two shots back, were Pat Cauley of Nashville and David Whitley of Magnolia, and stuck in third place at 139 was Keith Golden and Gilbert O'Dean Jr.

NORTHBROOK, Ill. (AP) — Jim Jamieson's victory in the Western Open was one of those beautiful happenings.

It was his first golf tournament triumph in four years on the PGA tour and it came in the friendly confines of his home state with 2,000 followers from his native Moline area forming the most enthusiastic army since Arnie's.

His parents, an uncle, the best man at his wedding, his old pro pal, Bob Fry of the Crow Valley Country Club in Davenport, Iowa, his wife, his 16-month-old son—they all were at the Sunset Ridge Country Club Sunday to see Jimmy Boy win.

And nobody has won by as big a margin in this year. The chunky Jamieson, who has trimmed his weight to 217 pounds, finished with a 69 for a 271 total—13 strokes under par and six strokes ahead of his nearest rival, Labron Harris.

Harris charged with a closing 65 for 277, followed at 280 by Hale Irwin, Jim Wiechers and Bob Lunn. Five others were grouped at 281, including Tommy Aaron who was second, eight strokes behind.

The largest winning margin previously this season on the tour was Lee Trevino's four-stroke victory in the Memphis Open.

Jamieson, who came up from the caddy ranks at Oakwood Country Club in Moline and won the 1964 Chicago District Amateur and 1967 Illinois State Amateur, pocketed $30,000 in becoming the first Illinois player to join the Western Open since Chick Evans in 1910.

It boosted his 1972 earnings to $77,603 and his total as a pro to $149,458.

"I couldn't let them down, but I'll admit I was nervous when I started," he said of his "army."

Jamieson started the final settled for fourth place.

The father-and-son team of Jim and Jerry Pruden holed out at 151 for first place in the 3rd flight. Following them were Joe and Brice Dowling (152), Gene Sanders-Bill Talbot (152) Jim Stuckey and Lynn Zeno (155).

Randy White and Johnny Wilson shot a 156 to take first in the 4th flight; second went to Jim Jones Jr., and Bill Shelton (156); third, Jack Gardner-Lynn Harris (157); fourth, Allen Smith-Tom Brack (158).

In the 5th flight, James Whitmore and Leland Tolle shot a 152 for first place; second went to Earl Lockett and Jack Webb

Texans tie for NCAA championship

CAPE CORAL, Fla. (AP) — The 1972 NCAA Golf Championship is in the hands of two University of Texas teammates, and neither is particularly happy about it.

"Tying is like kissing your sister," said senior Tom Kite after he had seen sole possession of the title pulled from his grasp when defending champion Ben Crenshaw canned a 25-foot putt on the final hole Saturday.

"No," said sophomore Crenshaw, "it's like kissing your brother."

"All I can say for being co-champion," added Kite, "is that it beats finishing second. I think the NCAA should think about changing its rule to provide a clear-cut winner."

Up until this year there had never been a need for a playoff. The first 75 championships ended simply with one winner.

Going into Saturday's fourth round at Cape Coral Country Club, Crenshaw had a four-stroke lead. But he slipped to 38, and with nine holes to go it became a four-way deadlock between Crenshaw, Kite, Howard Twitty of Arizona State and Bill Rogers of Houston.

Kite closed out the day with a 4-under-par 68. Twitty wound up at 72 and Rogers came in at 75.

That left the 22-year-old Kite waiting and wondering at the 18th hole, and Crenshaw needed a par on that one to tie.

The 20-year-old Crenshaw hooked his drive to the edge of the rough, sent his second shot about 60 feet wide of the green and chipped 25 feet beyond the cup before sinking the pressure putt.

That gave the Texans a 9-under-par 279 total. Twitty was third with 282, while Rogers tied teammate Art Russell for fourth with 285.

The Longhorns also retained the team title as their four entries turned in a 72-hole total of 1,146. Houston was second, 13 strokes back.

6th flight: first, Harold Trent-James Gaines (157); second, Mark Pope, Paul Ray, (161); third, Bob Arnold-Don Dawley (164); fourth, Ricky Ritchie-Dennis Ritchie (165).

7th flight: first, Jamie Russell-Joe Rooker (166); second, John Beckworth-Mark Beckworth; third, James Watson-Dick Moore; fourth, W. C. Nolen-Jim Harney (172).

Paul Collom was the winner of the blazer awarded for the closest ball to the pin on No. 7. His shot was 5-5 from the flag.

Foli gets thrown out of game after free-for-all

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not likely to make Montreal's Tim Foli feel a whole lot better now, but Steve Carlton didn't really mean to bean him.

"I'm sorry I plunked Foli on the head," said Carlton of the fourth inning pitch that precipitated a baseball free-for-all between the Montreal Expos and Philadelphia Phillies Sunday.

"I was trying to get him in the ribs, but the ball got away from me."

Foli bounced up off the ground and started after Carlton, signalling both dugouts to empty with Montreal Manager Gene Mauch leading the charge. He went after Carlton and wound up getting thrown out of the game when the umpires decided he had thrown the first punch in the ensuing brawl.

Catcher John Bateman's fifth inning homer accounted for the only run of the day as Carlton's four-batter blanked the Expos 1-0.

In other National League games, St. Louis swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 7-1 and 2-1. Pittsburgh battered Chicago 9-2. Cincinnati edged Houston 5-4 in 10 innings. San Francisco whipped San Diego 6-5 in 14 innings and Los Angeles shut out Atlanta 5-0.

Rick Wise, the man the Phillies traded to get Carlton, tossed a four-hitter of his own as St. Louis swept a doubleheader from the Mets. Wise took the second game after Scipio Spinks doled out six hits and struck out 13 batters to win the opener.

The nightcap was tied 1-1 until the ninth when Ted Simmons doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored as ex-Met Donn Clendenon beat out an infield single. Bernie Carbo had homered earlier for St. Louis.

In the opener, Lou Brock, Matty Alou, Joe Torre and Luis Melendez had two-hits apiece for the Cardinals.

The double loss dropped the Mets three games back of Pittsburgh in the National League East. The Pirates ripped the Cubs, sweeping the three-game series from Chicago, as Manny Sanguillen hit his first career grand slam homer, triggering a late-inning comeback.

Pittsburgh was trailing 2-1 with two out in the eighth inning when Roberto Clemente

Lady umpire resigns in flood of tears

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — It took Bernice Gera six years to battle her way to her goal of umpiring in professional baseball. Then after seven dispute-filled innings it was all over, and the petite New York housewife dropped out of public view, unavailable for comment or explanation.

Mrs. Gera resigned in tears Saturday after serving as base umpire in a New York-Pennsylvania League game between the Auburn Phillies and Geneva Rangers—her six years of effort and legal wrangling to break baseball

15-year-old challenger wins freestyle

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — A 15-year-old challenger has sent a warning down under to Shane Gould, Australia's wonder of the swimming world.

"I think we're catching up real fast," said Shirley Babashoff Sunday after winning her third event in the Santa Clara International Swimming Meet.

"But she'll get better too," the high school girl from Fountain Valley, Calif., added. "We don't expect her to stand still."

Miss Gould, also 15, is the dominant figure in the sport, the world record holder at all four women's free-style distances. She made her only U.S. appearance to date in last year's Santa Clara meet, sweeping the freestyles and setting a world mark of 4:21.2 for 400 meters.

But Miss Babashoff backed up her warning with a 9:01.5, best time in the world this year, to win the 800 freestyle Sunday. Earlier in the three-day meet, she won the 200 and 100 frees.

Jenny Wylie, a 14-year-old member of the Santa Clara Swim Club, won the 400 freestyle Friday with a time just 2.7 seconds off the year-old world record.

Gary Hall, the Indiana University star, was the only other triple winner in the meet. He took the 200 individual medley Sunday in 2:10.4, also a world best for 1972, after earlier winning the 400 freestyle and 400 medley.

Hall, an Olympic veteran, and other members of Indiana's NCAA championship team are spread around the country in training this summer. But in a relay meet here, they won eight of the 12 men's events, with Summit Award winner Mark Spitz taking two titles

Hanson belts homers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shreveport's Larry Hanson belted three straight home runs in the Texas League before Amarillo pitchers managed to snap his skein.

One of his roundtrippers helped provide the winning margin Saturday night, and Hanson duplicated the feat the next two times at bat as Shreveport polished off the league's West Division leaders 3-2 Sunday.

Alexandria polished off San Antonio 10-6 and Arkansas trimmed Midland 3-2 in other games, while wet grounds forced postponement of the El Paso at Memphis date.

At Shreveport, the home club's Sam Ashford extended his hitting streak to 18 games in a row. Highest in the league this season in and teammate Sam Martin went four-for-four. A hit to Paul Dade drove Martin home with the winning run in the fifth inning.

British hope to regain Curtis Cup

HUNSTANTON, England, (AP) — Britain's women golfers are confident they can regain in the Curtis Cup from the United States in two years.

The U.S. collected the trophy for the 13th time at Western Gailes, Scotland, two weeks ago. Since it was first presented in 1932, Britain has won the Cup only twice.

Michelle Walker, a 19-year-old English blonde, was the main source for Britain's current optimism.

She was undefeated in four Curtis Cup matches, and followed that last Saturday by taking the British amateur title for the second consecutive year.

The entire U.S. Curtis Cup Team was entered in the British championship over Hunstanton's 6,070-yard, par-75 links. But the slim English girl brushed aside all the opposition, including U.S. women's amateur champion Laura Baugh of Long Beach, Calif.

Miss Walker beat Miss Baugh 7 and 5 in the semifinal, then defeated Claudine Rubin of France two-up in the final.

Olympic team named

AIR FORCE ACADEMY Colo. (AP) — The United States will pin its basketball hopes at the Olympics in Munich this summer on a dozen tall, speedy college and AAU players chosen Sunday after several weeks of workouts under former Oklahoma State coach Henry Iba.

Iba singled out Jim Brewer, a 6-foot-9 center-forward from the University of Missouri, as his top prospect, but added that all 12 men are excellent shooters and quick defensively.

Sweetwater, the 6-11 guard, center for UCLA's Bill Walton, last season and the last of the 1971 draft of players who played this past week in the first 12 of 13 pre-Olympic trials, helped the camp attract 100 players and 40 coaches to the camp.

Boys, Girls Staters honored last week

The American Legion Auxiliary and Leslie Hudleston Post 12 held a joint meeting last Tuesday at the Douglas Building, to honor the 1972 delegates to Boys State and Girls State.

Post Commander Dee Coffey and Unit President Prudence Jones presided over the meeting and Mrs. Mary Nell Turner, Girls State chairman, presented the program. Participating on the program were Mary June Reyenga, Counselor, Marynell Branch, delegate to Girls Nation, Sue Butler, Debbie Crank, Debbie Impson, Anita McCauley, Janet McCain, Patti Page, Betty Ruth Honeycutt, Judy Reyenga, Rebecca Stuart, Kathy Graves, Evelyn Maxwell, Governor of Boys State, Mike Huckabee, Mike Waters, Steve Campbell, Mike Brown, Lester Sitzes, Jr., Mike Crawford.

Kathy Graves and Mike Crawford advanced the colors. Marynell Branch provided the music, and the Rev. Joe Jones, chaplain, gave the opening and the closing prayers.

Guests included the parents of the delegates to Girls State and Boys State; Miss Claudia Kuykendall, Director of Arkansas Girls State, and Miss Iva Kuykendall, both of Conway; Mrs. Inez Compton of Little Rock, Department Secretary; Mrs. Pauline Ellis, Northeast Division Vice-President; Mrs. E.F. Formby, Department Parliamentarian.

Girls and Boys State delegates not present were Mary Young, Mike Downs, Mike Middlebrooks, Buddy Ingram, Bob and Bill Arterbury and John Patton.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Inez Compton installed the new officers for Unit 12, and refreshments were served to the 72 present. The red, white and blue theme was carried out in the table decorations and the refreshments.

Ali is favorite in title bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Eddie "Boss Man" Jones, who once fought unsuccessfully for the light-heavyweight title, gives Jerry Quarry no chance in his bout against Muhammad Ali on Tuesday night.

Once he worked with Quarry in sparring sessions, but now he trains with Ali, so Jones has had the opportunity to study both the heavyweights.

"Ali's so fast you can't block his punches," Eddie says.

"I'm known to be a pretty fast man myself, but I can't do anything with Ali. I work with him and I'm a 10-round fighter and I'm tired after three."

Jones' comments don't make Quarry happy.

"I did work with him, but you can bet I won't work with him again unless it's to break his head," said the California heavyweight. "I always went easy with him and he's spouting off like this. And for the main thing, he isn't fighting me."

Jones, long recognized as the No. 1 light-heavyweight challenger, lost to Vicente Rondon at Caracas in a World Boxing Association title match last year.

Quarry and Ali are slated for 12 rounds at the Las Vegas Convention Center on the same card in which Jerry's brother Mike challenges Bob Foster for the light-heavyweight title.

The New York Turt Writers Association will hold its annual dinner at the Hall of Springs of the Performing Arts complex in Saratoga Springs, N.Y., Sunday night, Aug. 13.

People who test drive a Plymouth, buy a Plymouth.

Here's why:

"I don't buy a car just for myself. I got a wife, 3 kids and a dog. I looked at Fords and Chevys, I just prefer the Plymouth. It's roomier. Dependable. It's my seventh Chrysler product in 9 years."

"We decided to fit a car to our family. The Chevy I put it on and it didn't fit. The Ford didn't fit. After our first getting into the Plymouth, there was just no comparison. People who test drive a Plymouth would buy one... I really mean it."

Some cars just seem to fit a family. Like the '72 Plymouth Fury. It's priced right. Built strong. Runs reliably. It's roomy and comfortable. We think that's the kind of car people really want.

DRIVE IT. You'll like it.

Group bands to abolish corporation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservative Republicans are mounting a drive to abolish the new independent corporation proposed to run the program of legal services for the poor.

Some Democrats say they see evidence of administration support for killing the corporation, despite President Nixon's stated backing for such an agency to run the embattled legal-services program.

Rep. William Brock, R-Tenn., is sponsoring an amendment to the $9.6-billion antipoverty bill which would keep legal aid under the Office of Economic Opportunity, as it now operates.

If the Brock amendment fails, other GOP senators will attempt numerous proposals to restrict the legal-service program.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., manager of the pending bill, and other backers say the separate corporation is needed to give the program permanent status and insulate it from political pressures.

They emphasize that the lawyers in the program will represent 1.2 million poor clients this year.

An independent corporation for legal services was contained in an OEO-child-care bill vetoed by Nixon last December.

He objected chiefly to the child-care provisions but said also that the structure of the legal-services corporation was unacceptable because it was too independent of the White House.

Because of this criticism, the Senate Labor Committee, in working out the new bill, gave the president the unfettered right to name 10 of the 19 directors of the corporation.

However, Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., has attacked the new provision, asserting it still would create an irresponsible corporation.

Dole cited a series of cases over the country in which he said legal-services lawyers had:

Operated a draft-counseling service; participated in radical movements aimed at police and local elected officials; engaged in voter-registration drives; been charged with embezzling federal funds; and attempted to create disturbances and foment resistance in the armed forces.

Sponsors say the new bill would correct those grievances.

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — The new and unexpected devaluation of the pound may not have an immediate impact on ordinary Americans but it is very bad news just the same.

Britain's failure to maintain the value of its currency at about $2.60 represents a defeat for the entire trading world. And since major nations are traders, most eventually will be affected, mainly adversely.

British goods now will cost less in other countries, and so her exports can be expected to rise. Foreign goods will cost Britishers more than before, and so they will be forced to restrict imports.

But there are even larger matters involved.

For many months the world's great trading nations have been seeking monetary reform, based on agreements to maintain currency values. Fixed values, it is felt, are necessary to provide confidence for trade.

Even greater damage may have been done to another set of goals sought through a monetary union of Common Market nations. Under this agreement, Britain and other market members agreed to maintain parity with each other.

The challenge now is to contain the damage and repair the crack. But the danger exists also that it might spread and throw into disarray a good many other agreements that were laboriously worked out.

In one respect the world's trading nations are being drawn together. But at the same time many of them are either imposing subtle restraints on trade or are declining to lift existing impediments.

For trade among nations to prosper, there must be freedom in the movement of goods and believability in the value of currency used to pay for goods. Both have probably suffered from Britain's action.

Adding to the difficulty in maintaining agreements are disparities in the condition of national economies. Some countries, such as West Germany, have trade surpluses and strong currency. Others, like Britain, have deficits and weaknesses.

In short, if an economy isn't strong the value of the currency almost inevitably will adjust itself downward, either by a set figure or "floated" — really "sunk" — to a more realistic level.

Britain now has admitted that its economy isn't sufficiently strong to maintain its currency at $2.60. Instead, it plans to let the market place itself — demand and supply — fix the price.

About the only thing certain is that the new price will be lower. The rest is conjecture.

Postmaster A. D. Brannan, at left, retired from his duties Friday after 38 years as a federal employee. Brannan started as a substitute with the postal service, worked as a clerk for 26 years, and assistant postmaster for five years prior to being named postmaster seven years ago.

Judge Stephen Roth is figure in controversy

DETROIT (AP) — "You know," said U.S. District Court Judge Stephen Roth, "I had to grow up to find out what the word 'segregation' meant. It was a real melting pot neighborhood, with blacks and immigrants, every group imaginable, all living together."

Roth, now 64, made his comment in an interview more than a year ago, one of the last times he has talked to newsmen outside the courtroom.

Since then the judge has become the central figure in a controversy over his ordering into effect the nation's most sweeping school integration plan, covering 780,000 pupils in Detroit and surrounding suburbs.

The plan involves massive busing among 53 school districts and covers several hundred square miles. The order is being appealed by Michigan's attorney general and several suburban school districts.

Roth has become the main target of antibusing forces in the area, some of whom picketed the Federal Building in Detroit after the order was handed down June 14.

"That doesn't bother me,"

Roth said in the 1970 interview. "I hope I am in the position of being able to render some service to the community by helping solve this problem. But if people turn on me...well, that's just part of the job."

Roth had a reputation as a careful, conservative man when the case first came under his jurisdiction.

One attorney close to the case says that while hearing the NAACP's arguments Roth underwent "the most striking change of heart I have ever seen."

In December 1970, Roth criticized "forced feeding" school integration plans and suggested that the "outsiders" should leave Detroit alone so it can solve its own problem.

The "outsiders" to whom Roth was referring was the NAACP, which filed the suit 18 months ago.

Born in the village of Sajo Szoged in Hungary, where his father was caretaker on an aristocrat's estate, Roth migrated to Flint Mich., in 1913 at the age of 5. He made the trip in steerage.

Roth's family settled in a melting-pot, working-class neighborhood on Flint's North Side, where his father worked in the old Buick plant.

Young Roth worked his way through college at Notre Dame during the depression and received his law degree in 1935 from the University of Michigan.

Roth was appointed to a circuit judgeship in 1952, a job he held for 10 years before the late President Kennedy named him to the federal bench.

Huckabee, Miss Branch are guests at Rotary

"For God and country," the theme of the American Legion, was stressed in all phases of activities at Boys State and Girls State, the Hope Rotary Club was told at its luncheon meeting Friday, at the Town and Country restaurant.

Marynell Branch, who was chosen to be a senator for Girls Nation in July, and Mike Huckabee, who was named governor of Arkansas Boys State, told of the patriotic inspiration they had received while attending the encampments for girls and for boys recently held at Camp Robinson.

Miss Branch, who was sponsored by the Hope Rotary Club at Girls State, expressed her thanks to the club and then gave emphasis to the political aspect of the training she had received. She said the importance of having a two-party system was shown, and she hoped that Arkansas would continue to operate under that system in years to come.

Huckabee said that the vast majority of young people in the United States today—98 percent—are patriotic, law-abiding, God-fearing citizens who are more anxious to stop trouble than to start it. Unfortunately, it is the other two percent who make the headlines.

"Hope and all of Arkansas are fortunate in having two such young people to represent us," said Hope High Principal Bobby Whitmarsh in introducing the speakers. "They are a credit to their churches, their school and their community." Rotarian Earl O'Neal arranged for the program.

Club President Dr. Sam Strong welcomed the guests that included Dr. J.W. Branch, Todd Holt of Dayton, O., and Earl Munroe of Guyana, South America.

Ex-cheerleader to view convention first-hand

DUMAS, Ark. (AP) — Peggy Glass of Dumas, a recent high school graduate, wants to know what happens on the convention floor and she will have her chance next month—first hand. Miss Glass, a former high school cheerleader, was selected as one of Arkansas 27 delegates to the national convention in Miami.

"It's fantastic," she said. "I want to know how it works when the candidates are there campaigning on the floor of the convention."

This is her first venture into the political world and she said she decided to try to be a delegate because she was "interested in the way politics work."

She went to the counties in her area, the 4th Congressional District, and talked to political figures about her desire to represent the state at the convention.

"I ran against two other persons, young men, who were college-age, and I won," she said. "I tried to make a sincere appeal and I guess that was it."

While in high school, she was student body president, a homecoming maid, co-editor of the school yearbook, and a member of the paramedical club.

"That's my big interest—medicine," she said.

She plans to enroll this fall in Ouachita Baptist University to work toward a medical degree.

"I'm not sure what field of medicine I'll go into," she said. "I might change, but right now I think I'd like to be a pediatrician because I love children, I hate to see them sick or anything, it just kills me."

She is the daughter of A. D. and Hazel Glass.

Asked if her father, who is a signalman for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, shared her enthusiasm for participating in the polling process she said she thought so, adding that he was going to pay the bills for the trip.

Flood death toll is 117

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Massive cleanup, relief and rebuilding efforts have begun as the flood waters recede in the devastated East. The death toll from the week-long storm stood at 117 today and tens of thousands remained homeless.

As the rivers returned to their banks, thousands returned to their homes and businesses to clear away silt with shovels and brooms, and there was a break in the crisis that began when the storm named Agnes slammed across the Florida coast on her disastrous course a week ago.

With property damage over the $1 billion mark in Pennsylvania alone, the storm-torn states looked to the federal government for assistance, and a presidential aide promised it would be forthcoming.

The pledge came after the governors of five states and a representative from a sixth met in Harrisburg, Pa., Sunday with George A. Lincoln, director of the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Red Cross officials said 112,000 homeless people were being cared for at 330 emergency shelters in Pennsylvania, New York, Virginia and Maryland, and they launched a disaster fund campaign for $10 million.

While most of the flood threat was past, watches were still kept in several areas including Petersburg, Va., where the Appomattox River was not expected to crest until tonight, and Almond, N.Y., threatened by a 14-mile-long artificial lake of rainwater behind a highway embankment.

There were some local problems in New York and Pennsylvania with spectators and looters.

A lack of potable drinking water was reported in at least 80 communities in Pennsylvania. In New York a shortage of containers for bringing in water was reported in Elmira.

At the meeting in Harrisburg Sunday, OEP director Lincoln told the governors that federal assistance ranging from rent-free, temporary housing to unemployment compensation would be available.

Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp expressed concern that the aid would not filter through the red tape quickly enough. Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel said he feared that not enough funds would be available.

Lincoln said the aid would be swift, sufficient and widespread.

Other governors attending the meeting were Linwood Holton of Virginia, Russell W. Peterson of Delaware and William T. Cahill of New Jersey. New York's vacationing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller sent a representative.

Red Cross President George M. Elsey announced his organization's $10 million disaster fund campaign after a seven-hour aerial survey of the affected area. He estimated that more than 30,000 families in five states would need Red Cross assistance.

Federal and state authorities said that of the substantially more than $1 billion damage, a "minuscule fraction" was covered by flood insurance.

The crash of a helicopter on a surveying mission for the Army Corps of Engineers killed three persons Sunday, bringing the known death toll in New York to 23.

In several places, once the rains stopped and the floods began to recede, there was a new problem: sightseers. There were throngs in Harrisburg, and in Pittsburgh one policeman radioed that the curious were "raising all kinds of hell" downtown.

Police in Eldred, Pa., had their own problem — pleasure boats racing up and down flooded Main Street.

One policeman said the police can't cope with the problem. "Our rowboats just aren't fast enough," he said.

Party requests 'Day of prayer' for Wallace

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The American party in Arkansas asked in a resolution Saturday that Gov. Dale Bumpers call a day of prayer for the "continued recovery" of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Wallace has been paralyzed since being shot May 15 at a political rally in a Laurel, Md., shopping center. He was seeking support for his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The resolution said Wallace has "put up a gallant fight for life, enduring great pain and suffering."

At the convention, chairman Walter Carruth of Lexa was named the party's vice chairman and Hubert Blanton of Hughes was named chairman. Rudy Wallace of Forrest City became secretary and Paul Schlauf of Little Rock was chosen treasurer.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, also was an expert in teaching the deaf to talk, and his teaching methods had lasting value in the improvement of the education of the deaf.

Tennessee officers searching for three men

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Shelby County sheriff's officers say they are searching for three men wanted in the fatal shootings of two persons and the wounding of another in an armed robbery.

"We have a national alert issued for the men and authorities in area states are watching, but so far we've heard nothing," inspector Dan Jones of the sheriff's office said late Sunday.

The men are sought in the slayings of Helen Ruth Hallmon, 55, and her brother, Herschel Leon Williams, 44, who was shot in his bed at the Hallmon home in Ellerslie, near Memphis, police said.

Shooting deaths of the two followed the robbery and wounding of her husband, J. L. Hallmon, a security guard at the Lakeland Amusement and Amusement Park about 15 miles east of Memphis.

Jones said authorities believe the case is linked to an incident in Lauderdale County in which two women were criminally assaulted and robbed last Tuesday by three armed men.

The men in the Lauderdale County incident were reported to be driving a light-colored Chevrolet with Alabama plates, similar to the description of the car in the Memphis case, Jones said.

Jones said the Memphis incident began at 12:15 a.m. Sunday when the three surprised Hallmon, 38, an employee of Horns Guard Service, as he was awaiting his relief at the park.

The men fired a shotgun blast into the rear of Hallmon's station wagon, pointed shotguns at him and ordered him out of the car, Jones said.

"They demanded the racing track receipts. He told them the money was not there, that someone else had already taken it away," the inspector related.

Motorists can buy little boxes which beep warnings when a driver approaches a radar speed trap.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB
What causes ear blockages?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—What causes the blocking of the ear such as what occurs when descending from altitude? In my case, this occurs several times a day. It is very irritating when talking because I suddenly feel that I am talking too loudly or unclearly, then I find myself concentrating on this rather than on what I am saying.

I have gone to two doctors and they told me this was likely due to ear infections I had as a child. One stated that I may eventually need an operation and the other gave me pills which didn't help any. I have had this problem approximately seven years, but the blocking seems to be happening more regularly as time progresses. What do you think I should do?

Dear Reader—You should make arrangements to see an ear, nose and throat specialist. Your family doctor can refer you to one or you can obtain the names of specialists for this problem with a telephone call to the nearest county medical society. You may also write to your state medical association to ask for the name and location of ear doctors who are closest to your home.

The ear is affected by changes in altitude because of the difference in pressure across the eardrum between the external ear and middle ear chamber. The external ear is the ear at the side of the head, plus the canal that funnels sound into the ear. The canal itself is really a blind tube closed with the white, glistening membrane of the eardrum.

The middle ear is the next compartment. Inside the eardrum is a great hollow chamber, the middle ear. At the bottom of this hollow chamber is a tube that passes downward and opens in the back of the throat (eustachian tube). Through this tube the middle ear chamber communicates with the air in mouth. When air pressure builds up in the middle chamber, air is forced out the tube and into the mouth. If the pressure in the chamber falls, air is sucked up into the chamber through this same tube. This way, the pressure can be changed in the middle ear chamber.

When you go to altitude, the thin air creates less pressure at the external ear. The air in the hollow middle ear is under greater pressure and can push your eardrums out. The ear is protected against this by leaking air from the middle ear chamber through the tube to the mouth.

When descending from altitude, as the air pressure increases, the external pressure against the eardrum pushes inward. Too much pushing in and out of the eardrum causes irritation called barotrauma.

Overgrowth of tissue in the throat near the tube opening may make it impossible for air to pass freely in and out of the middle ear chamber. Sometimes, surgical removal of the overgrown tissue is needed.

I doubt your problem is barotrauma, since it occurs several times a day without changing altitude. More likely it is related to ear damage that amplifies some sounds but not others. This occurs most often with increasing age.

Your ears are exceptionally important, and anyone who is having hearing problems certainly deserves a careful examination by a specialist.

Intraparty warfare on Demo platform possible

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The speedy Democratic Partydrafters, who neatly avoided intraparty warfare on their job-prices-taxes plank, headed into storms and slower going today on Vietnam, defense spending and school busing.

Spokesmen for Sen. George McGovern and Gov. George C. Wallace indicated that minority proposals would be introduced, precipitating floor fights at the drafting sessions of the full 150-member Platform Committee today and Tuesday.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma also urged platform drafters to revolt against their 15-member drafting subcommittee by demanding stronger tax-reform and antitrust planks and a denunciation of strip-mining.

A spokesman for Wallace said the subcommittee's proposed business plank still not disclosed to the public or the full drafting committee—is unsatisfactory.

And a number of supporters of front-running Sen. McGovern reportedly felt aggrieved that the South Dakotan's positions were inadequately reflected in the planks being drafted.

The small drafting subcommittee labored almost all Saturday night to produce three domestic planks. The policies started with a "guaranteed job" proposal and federal increase not unlike McGovern's share-the-wealth plan—but far less specific.

The three planks won general approval from spokesmen for Democratic presidential candidates. Back at its labors all day Sunday, the subcommittee planned to present a complete eight-plank draft to its parent committee by this morning.

That body in turn had 48 hours to rewrite and approve a final draft which must be in 10 days before the Democratic National Convention opens in Miami Beach on July 10.

Sunday's draft planks called for a guaranteed job for everyone, plus replacement of the present welfare system by "an income-security program" providing federal payments to insure every family an income at or above the poverty level.

McGovern has urged a $1,000-per-person income grant for the poor and elimination of the $750 personal income-tax deduction—plus tax reform aimed at corporations and affluent individuals.

There are big hurdles ahead. Ten per cent of the drafting committee—any 15 members—could enter a dissent and each could be debated on the convention floor.

The draft planks released Sunday have these titles and these further basic provisions:
Jobs, Prices and Taxes:

—Endorsement of the Mills-Mansfield tax-reform plan, under which all preferences and loopholes would be repealed in groups from 1974 to 1976, unless retained after full consideration in Congress. This would thwart a McGovern plan: he has urged some immediate loophole-closings to help pay for his income-grant proposal.

—Converting Social Security into a progressive tax, bearing more heavily on the well-to-do, by increasing the basic amount of annual pay on which the payroll tax is levied. Cost-of-living increases in old-age pensions would be automatic.

—Property taxes would be reduced and school spending equalized by "substantial increases in the federal share of education costs and general revenue sharing."

Rights, Power and Social Justice:

—Endorses both national health insurance and no-fault automobile insurance.

—Legalization of class-action suits by which consumer groups can go into court on behalf of all consumers.

Cities, Communities and Environment:

—Devotes six pages to environmental recommendations which, according to platform drafters, will safeguard air, land and water from pollution without sacrificing economic growth or jobs.

—The highway fund would be broadened to include funds for other transportation forms, including city mass-transit systems.

Challenges may present Dems problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Convention's Credentials Committee is wading into a massive round of delegate challenges that loom as the most critical hurdle left in George McGovern's path to the nomination.

In what may be the severest test yet of the party's sweeping reform rules—many of which were promulgated by McGovern—the panel must weigh a record 80 challenges affecting delegations from 30 states.

"McGovern's interest now," said his committee coordinator, Eli Segal, "is in a peaceful and harmonious convention. Credentials has the most potential for trouble."

Although McGovern strategists were working feverishly to minimize conflicts in the seating of delegates, several cases pose an inescapable dilemma to his followers who control the Credentials Committee.

By refusing to compromise McGovern's reform ideals, they could alienate Old Guard Democrats in Illinois and several other states whose support could prove vital to his chances against President Nixon. If, on the other hand, they gloss over reform violations, they risk imperiling his credibility among liberals, blacks, women and youth.

Moreover, in a challenge in California, any ruling favorable to those who contend the state's winner-take-all primary violated prohibitions against unit rule could cost McGovern his shot at a first-ballot nomination. He now claims all 271 California delegates, whose case will be heard today but likely not decided until late this week or early next.

McGovern's forces offered something of a unity concession Sunday night at the committee's organizing meeting, when they joined in the unanimous elevation of Patricia Harris, a black Washington attorney, from temporary to permanent chairman. They had opposed her original appointment several months ago on ground she was not enthusiastic enough in her commitments to reform.

But at the same time, the committee's choice for vice chairman served as a portent that it may not be in a compromising mood.

Hodding Carter, a challenged delegate from Greenville, Miss., got the post upon the nomination of McGovern's California contingent. Carter, a journalist who, as his father was, long been aligned with the civil-rights movement in the South, is a "Loyalist" Democrat whose delegation is being contested by Mississippi regulars led by Gov. William Waller.

Most of the challenges—which the committee will hear one case at a time in the next two weeks—are being lodged under reforms aimed at making the convention more representative of women and minority groups and reducing the control of party bosses.

The current lineup shows 37 per cent of the delegates are women, 22 per cent are under 30 years of age and 15 per cent are black. Nearly 50 per cent are attending their first convention, as compared to 55 per cent in 1968. But the challengers contend that's not enough.

'Political power' answer to needs of education

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The new president of the National Education Association says the only way to meet the educational needs of all children is with "raw political power."

Mrs. Catharine Barrett, a Syracuse, N.Y., inner city elementary teacher for more than 40 years, takes over leadership of the 1.2 million-teacher organization Friday at the conclusion of the NEA's 110th annual meeting.

In an interview, Mrs. Barrett said her two top priorities will be to "make teachers recognize political force" and to "achieve legislation which by 1976 will see the federal government contributing one-third the cost of education."

With teachers already organized politically in 42 states, Mrs. Barrett said she is hopeful that they will have an impact on presidential balloting and congressional elections in November.

For the past year, as president-elect of the NEA, Mrs. Barrett has spent much of her time touring the United States advising teacher groups on how to organize politically.

Here are her answers to specific questions: Q. Can teacher groups or yourself support President Nixon in the November election?

A. Mr. Nixon is very negative as far as education is concerned—whether it be a budget proposition, whether in support of a proposal, whether in support of support funds for education and whether to support busing. He would take society back to an era we got rid of years ago. There is nothing in the Nixon administration to indicate his support of education or that he's prepared to take action to give every youngster an equitable opportunity."

Q. Have teachers become more politically active? Do you think they can be united at the polls on the local and national levels?

A. "Teachers in 42 states have organized teacher political action committees. In New York State, teachers are organized in all key legislative districts and are now endorsing candidates after intensive study. They also are organizing in congressional districts and will issue report cards on candidates' educational voting records so that teachers are able to make a complete judgment. Whether the NEA will endorse a presidential candidate will depend on the membership. It is more than possible that we will."

Q. What will be your top priority this coming year?

A. "I have two priorities and they are side by side. I want to make teachers recognize political force and to achieve legislation which by 1976 will see the federal government contributing at least one-third the cost of education. The highest it's ever been was 8.8 per cent and this past year was only 7.1 per cent."
